DREAMS.

'Knowest thou what thou art in the hour of sleep?' Taliessin.

Revere thyself,—for thou art wonderful,'
Even in thy passiveness. Hail, heir of heaven,
Immortal Mind!—that when the body sleeps,
Dost roam with unseal'd eye, and tireless wing,
Where Memory hath no chart, and Reason finds
No pole-star for her compass Guest divine,—
Our earthly nature bows itself to thee,
Putting its ear of clay unto the sigh
Of thy disturbed visions, if perchance
It gain some whisper of thy glorious birth,
Or deathless heritage.
How sweet are dreams
To those whom waking life hath surfeited
With dull monotony! 'Tis sweet when day
Hath been a weariness, and Evening's hand,
Like some lean miser, greedily doth clutch
The flowers that morning gave us, to lie down
And breathe a fragrance that they never knew,—
Pressing our fingers to the thornless rose
That springs where'er we tread. 'Tis very sweet
To turn from stern Reality, who sits
Like some starch beldame, all precise and old
And sheer intolerant,—and with the spell
Of radiant Fancy, rove unblam'd and wild,
And limitless. When niggard Fortune gives
A stony pillow,—like the patriarch's bed,
Who slept at Bethel,—gentle dreams do plant
An airy ladder for the angels' feet,
Making that hard couch like the gate of heaven.
They feed us on ambrosia,—till we loathe
Our household bread.
To traverse all untir'd,
Broad realms, more bright than fabled Araby,—
To hear unearthly music,—to plunge deep
In seas of bliss,—to make the tyrant grave
Unlock its treasure-valve, and yield, the form
Whose loss we wept, back to our glad embrace,—
To wear the tomb's damp drapery, yet to live,—
To catch from heaven a glimpse of streets of gold,
A sound of harpings, and a gleam of wings
Forever glancing o'er the ethereal way,—
These are the gifts of dreams, and we would speak
Most reverently of their strange ministry.
———Lo,—life is but a dream! Awake! Awake!
Cast off the trance of vanity and look
With keen undazzled eye above the cloud
That canopies man's hopes. Hear ye the voice
Of deity, that mid man's hour of sleep,
In the still baptism of his dewy dreams,
Beareth such witness of the wondering soul,
As breathed o'er Jordan's wave.—Behold my Son!

From the Knickerbocker.

Military matters have materially altered of late years. There is a vast deal of superfluous courage extant. In a time of profound peace, the good citizens of many of our States are bored with fines and mulcts, that ought to be discarded altogether. Then, what a sight do some of our military companies present! They remind me of the story of the French Prince, who visited England, and on his arrival [illegible] Cambridge was greeted by a volunteer company of neighboring clowns,—commanded by a supreme hind, who exceeded all his train-band for clumsiness and bad culture. After undergoing a sort of review before the noble stranger, the captain approached him, and begged to know the opinion he entertained of the company that fronted him.

'Sare,' said the Prince, 'I 'ave seen great many companie; great many battalion; I 'ave seen de grand corps de Napoleon; de guard National; I 'ave seen de allied armée; I 'ave seen de Swiss and de Jarman,—de Russ and de Pruss,—but ma foi, capitan, I 'ave nevare seen such an extraordinare companie as yours,—nevare,—nevare!'

Talking of worship, makes me say, that nothing can inspire in me a deeper feeling of devotion than sacred music. To hear the plaintive overture of the choir, and the organ,—the stream of melody which seems to roll from the galleries, and to dissolve as it flows, into a kind of atmosphere above the aisles,—is soothing and subduing. It banishes every low-thoughted care, and gives us 'such glimpses of Heaven as saints have in dreams.' One fancies that he hears the murmur of spirit-hymns, or else the rustling of celestial wings, and says within himself:—

'Let but a little part,
A wandering breath of that high melody
Descend into my heart,
And change it, till it be
Transformed, and swallowed up, oh Love! in thee!'

A Young Etonian.—'Pray, mamma,' said a youthful scholar, just come home for the holidays, from Eton, where he had fagged hard, but acquired very little—'pray, mamma, was Virgil a mayor of some place or other?' 'I should think not,' was the maternal answer. 'Then,' said the little querist, 'I want to know why they call him Virgilius Maro!'

'Good news for me!' exclaimed a certain person, as he took up a newspaper the other day, 'good news for me, who, having been all my life a great Port-wine drinker, am now ordered to drink nothing but water! Here is a project for supplying the metropolis with the pure element.' 'Then, from force of habit,' said Poole, 'I suppose you'll lay down a pipe.'

'How is the Duchess of Cumberland,' said Hook, at one of the Speaker's dinners. 'Oh, very well indeed.' 'And pray,' continued the wit, 'how are Sternhold and Hopkins?' 'Oh, vastly well.' 'And who, pray are Sternhold and Hopkins?' 'Oh, the two Princes of Psalms.' 'Salms,' rejoined Hook.

Agreeable Invitation.—We have received a civil card from the secretary of the now flourishing 'All Souls' Cemetery,' Harrow Road, by which We and friends are invited to 'the Interior'—and the invitation is appropriately enough marked 'perpetual.'—London Court Journal.

For the Boston Morning Post.

Our Courts of Justice.—If any other class of men, but judges, either doctors, clergymen, farmers, merchants or mechanics, were endowed with certain important powers over the life, liberty, and property of all men; and, moreover, had made to themselves a rule of principle and practice, to extend and enlarge those powers, on every opportunity and by every means, it would be considered a just cause of alarm. Yet such a power, and such a disposition to enlarge it, would be vastly less dangerous to society in the hands of the classes above mentioned, than in those of the judges, because the former would be kept in check by their own numbers; and their encroachments on the public rights would meet more frequently the public eye. Whereas the judges are comparatively few; their combination is more easy, and they are supported by those very classes in whose interest they are generally found to act, because it is from them that they receive their appointments. These classes also give the tone to public opinion, and decide what is right and what is wrong, according to what effects favorably, or otherwise, their own interests.

It would be but a stale truism to repeat what has been said so often, from time out of mind—"that the laws are made for the rich, and not for the poor." Every day's experience teaches us that their application by the judges varies according to the length of the purse; but sometimes it disregards the purse, (a moment) for the sake of punishing some bold or imprudent wight, who has the temerity to take sides with the people, and to expose the evil doings of lawmakers and law expounders, as the writer knows by experience.

See how complaisant was the law the other day in New York, in relation to two young criminals, because they had rich parents.

This is one instance in a thousand of such cases.—But if we could know how many just civil causes are kept out of our courts, because the poor or industrious men who have them dare not venture to appear before judges, who they know will lean to the opposite side; because it is on that side they depend for their offices; then, indeed, we shall be astounded by the frightful amount of denials for justice.

Can it be expected that the people will reverence laws which are susceptible of such perversion, or respect judges who are capable of so administering them? No, it is impossible; and the people will, ere long, find and apply the remedy to such abuses—call such movements fearful innovation, disorganization, radicalism, or infidelity. The people know that neither sound morality, nor pure religion, authorize judges to hold the scales of justice with a partial hand; or legislators to make laws favorable to classes or individuals.

Where will the people find the remedy for these abuses? They will find it in making the judges amenable to them, in whose name, and for whose interest they were appointed, and not, alone, to those exclusive classes, which have virtually assumed the whole power of state; making the laws and appointing all the administrative officers, and the most important ones for life; so that if, by some good luck, once in a while, we get a popular legislature or administration, these influential judges, however corrupt, partial, or adverse to popular rights, cannot be removed, but must remain there as enemies in the republican camp, always ready [illegible] our cause or to blow up our citadel. There is the remedy, and the people [illegible] are slow to redress their own wrongs, have had this remedy in their minds for a long time.

In addition to the ancient complaints of venal judges and bought justice, we now find that this growing assumption of power, on the part of our courts bids fair to dictate to us also the only safe way to heaven. They now interfere in matters of faith; and upon their simple dictum, without legislative authority, decide what is orthodox and what is not, and thus dispossess one portion of a Parish (the great majority perhaps) of all share in the common property, for the benefit of the minority, which may possibly consist of the Deacon alone, or some other pious rich man; while the whole of that common property may have proceeded from the ancestors of the persons so dispossessed. This is a new and ample field for the extension of judicial prerogative, embracing the whole canon law, and the great folios of ecclesiastical lore.

To escape the contentions and innumerable evils to which such pretensions to power over person, property, and conscience, would lead, the sooner we get back to one and the same faith the better—be that the Catholic or the Unitarian faith.

There is one more judicial stride which the enlightened people will not, I trust, allow to proceed much further; that is, the assumption of power over the juries, and the special, and oftentimes partial pleading of judges, in their charges. I was present some time since at a trial of a plain case, which all the lawyers about me had decided according to their own views, in which they all agreed. But when the judge had given his charge to the jury, they all said that the case would go contrary to their opinions. I asked why; because, said they, the judge is evidently against the other party. I asked again, have the arguments and conclusions of the judge altered your opinions of the case? No, they all replied, but the judge is determined that it shall be otherwise. Now, I appeal to lawyers to know whether this be an uncommon case.

But juries decide on life and death, and reputation, which is still dearer, as well as on property.

In Magna Charta it is stated, more than once, that the jury is the bulwark of our liberties. Especially in chapter 29th which says—"that no freeman shall be hurt, either in his person, or property, without a legal trial by his peers, or the laws of the land: nisi per legale judicium parium suorum, vel per legem terræ." Every precaution is taken to exclude from the Court and jury, corrupt or corruptible officers. The sheriff must be indifferent to the cause on trial, or his power to return the jury, venere facias, is transferred to another. The jurymen are challengable by the parties for various causes of interest, hatred, prejudice, or affinity, in civil cases; and in criminal cases, without the necessity of assigning any cause.

The jury may be fined by the Court, if they agree to cast lots for their verdict, or to bring in guilty, or not guilty, as the Court shall seem inclined. Yet such verdict is not set aside, as it ought to be.

"The liberties of England," says a law writer, "cannot but subsist, so long as this Palladium remains sacred and inviolate, unawed by the power of the monarch, unstained by the weakness, or wickedness of jurors."

Now, happily, we have no monarch in America, who has an interest in awing the jury; therefore none who can have that desire. But we have a monarch, called the people, who has a very deep interest in just laws, righteously administered. How refreshing it is for an honest Republican to discover, at times, new views on the merits of his own Government, in the very precautions which humane legislators, in other less favored countries, have been obliged to prescribe to guard the rights of man from the oppressive hands of power. Here, we have no monarch, it is true, to guard against. But, let us beware, that no other permanent power, with another name, assume the same baneful influence over juries; for such a power sanctified by legal forms, and holy precedents, may be more difficult to correct than the usurpation of Kings, who have but one head. Another English law writer says—"that if the opinion of the judges must rule the verdict, the trial by jury would be useless."

We have seen, above, how cautious the British legislators have been, to purify the Courts of justice from all bias. And we may add, that there was a time, when even the honorable judges themselves were liable to be challenged for such good cause as well as vitiated sheriffs and jurymen. It was in the time of Bracton, and Fleta. But it is now otherwise, judges are now made of different materials, and their moral character stands above the power of temptation, and out of the reach of impeachment. A judge may withdraw from the Bench, if a cause were in hearing which concerned his own interest, or that of a near relative. And delicate judges probably would. But, in these times of universal speculation, where all society, from the scavenger to the Priest; from the constable to the judge, is linked in the great chain of commerce, how can the judge help being very often interested in the case hearing. Then is it doubly important to maintain the entire independence of the jury in this country, with all possible checks on its corruption. Moreover, the distance now between the intelligence and moral character of jurymen and judges must be vastly less great, than in the time of Bracton and Fleta. And an American juryman is more capable of deciding on the law and the fact, than jurymen of that time.

Law, legislation, and even the forms of religion, seem not to move on, pari passu, with the age in which we live. They lag behind, and thus produce all that jarring discord which now puzzles lawgivers and moralists. It is time for the people to spur them up, to meet the improved condition of man.

Are there not, on the contrary, some sad symptoms of backsliding? In old times we had Ecclesiastical Courts, which held exclusive jurisdiction over all spiritual matters. Now, our civil Courts seem inclined to arrogate to themselves all these attributes. They not only decide on what is orthodox or heterodox, but they influence the juries, and exclude from the witness stand all such persons as they may say are unworthy to testify, on account of some religious belief or disbelief, which does not accord with their own notions. Yet a Hixite Quaker, who is considered an infidel by the orthodox, is admitted to testify without an oath; while neither an oath or an affirmation is received from a man without a blemish on his moral character; because he has the honesty to say that he does not believe that which he cannot comprehend: but is willing to believe that, or anything else, which the judge will explain to him, in some manner within the range of his reasoning faculties. This is a great power to be confided to one man, and that man appointed for life. It is the power of life and death, over every man who may be subject to trial for a capital offence. It is a power over reputation, liberty and property, all confided to the fallible integrity of one man, because that man may exclude from Court, the only witness which could prove the innocence, or the title to property. It would seem then, that such a gigantic power were ill befiting our Republican Institutions, and well worthy the serious consideration of the people through their representatives.

IMPORTANT TO MANUFACTURERS.—The subscribers offer for sale or rent for the purpose of establishing the Cotton or Wollen manufacturing business a valuable WATER PRIVILEGE situated in the village of Milleville, four miles east of the city of Troy, on the turnpike leading from Troy to Bennington. Perhaps there is no privilege in this section of country equal to it both on account of the locality and the expense of erecting the dam &c. It is situated on one of the most durable streams we have, and possesses the advantage of a rocky bottom and sides, which render it perfectly secure from freshets, ice &c—convenient to market—the transportation trifling—the excavating very little—the power sufficient at all seasons to drive 4000 spindles—having about 12 feet fall—renders it an object for any one about to establish the manufacturing business, to call and view the premises. The subscribers anxious to have a cotton or woollen manufactory started in the place, will dispose of the privilege on reasonable terms for that purpose.

CUMBERLAND HOUSE—PORTLAND.

This establishment is conducted by an association of gentlemen, who are determined to make it what has been so long needed in Portland, a genteel and comfortable Hotel.

The House was opened in May last, but owing to some contemplated improvements, has not been advertised before. An addition of Fifty Rooms is now making, which will be finished in September, making in all one hundred and twenty rooms.—Permanent arrangements have been made with individuals of known capability, who will manage the detail of business.—The house is situated at the junction of Congress, Middle and Federal streets, opposite the City Hall, and is therefore well adapted for business men.

The Table d' Hote it is believed cannot fail of giving entire satisfaction.

There is also a Ladies Ordinary throughout the year.

Invalids, and persons travelling for pleasure, will find this House particularly calculated for them.

The subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has taken that well known and extensive establishment, formerly occupied by the late Mr WILLIAM GALLAGHER. He hopes by strict attention and a desire to please, to merit a share of patronage from the public which was bestowed upon his predecessor.

The House is situated in the most central part of the city, and contiguous to the Post Office and other public buildings. It has been fitted up in a neat and genteel style,—the rooms airy and retired. The Larder will at all times be provided with every delicacy the season will afford.

Parties wishing to be provided with entertainment for any number of persons, can be accommodated at the shortest notice. A few single gentlemen can be accommodated with board.
m7 JAMES RYAN.

"BOSTON COFFEE HOUSE,"

Formerly known as the "Stackpole House," has been taken by the subscribers, and will be continued as a public house, for the accommodation of boarders, parties, clubs &c. The present proprietors intend to keep a first rate establishment, well supplied with the best the market affords, and arranged in the most convenient and perfect order. Their public eating room will be constantly open, where soups, meats, and other refreshments may be had at a moment's notice. F. & L. WINSHIP.

THE BOSTON MORNING POST.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 20, 1835.

TO ALL FRIENDS OF THE UNION AND OF THE CONSTITUTION.

The citizens of Boston, without distinction of party, who are opposed to the proceedings of the advocates for the immediate emancipation of the slaves of the South—and who, however they may regard slavery as an evil, yet look with distrust and abhorrence upon all measures which may tend to instigate the blacks to insubordination and insurrection, determined and willing to abide, at all hazards, by the Constitution, and to preserve inviolate the pledged faith of the Republic, which has flourished and is still flourishing under the auspices of that sacred Charter,—all such citizens are requested to meet at Faneuil Hall on FRIDAY AFTERNOON, the 21st inst. at 4 o'clock, there and then to make known to our countrymen of the South, that we recognize their constitutional rights; that we will sustain them in the possession of them; and that we deplore the unauthorized interference of those, who, with a professed zeal for the melioration of the condition of the slaves, are either forging for them new fetters, or placing in imminent peril the lives and property of the white population.

Free Discussion and Anti-Slavery.—Many of the papers complain very indignantly of the proceedings against the abolitionists as equivalent to an effort to stop free discussion. We do not consider it in this light. Their harrangues are calculated merely to excite the feelings of our citizens against the slaveholders at the South, not to convince their minds of the impolicy of slavery. If our citizens were disposed to prevent free discussion, it would be the speakers on the other side—on the slavery side of the question whom they would refuse to hear—since men who are averse to free enquiry always oppose the opponents of their own opinions rather than their champions. Who ever heard of a religious community that refused to listen to evidences in favor of religion? Are they not the infidels to whose arguments they refuse to listen? Is it to be supposed then, that our citizens, who are without any known exceptions anti-slavery in their opinions, would refuse to listen to the champions of their own tenets because they are opposed to free discussion? Preposterous notion—to suppose that men would be angry to hear their own opinions defended! No man in this part of the country is unwilling to listen to arguments against slavery—but the intelligent, liberal and peaceable citizens of this community object to any interference with the political affairs of our Southern neighbors and their domestic institutions. We are actuated therefore by motives of honor in opposing the measures of the abolitionists, and not by any aversion to free inquiry or any unwillingness to hear the subject of slavery philosophically or morally discussed. We are not opposed to their enjoyment of the liberty of speech or of the press—but we are opposed to their vile slander of all their political opponents—their libellous and lying publications against the Southern people—their perverted accounts of transactions among slaveholders—their unprincipled exaggeration of facts concerning the cruelty of certain masters—their misrepresentation of the amount of such cruelty, and their total concealment of all facts which would tend to represent the Southern slaveholder as any better than a savage. We do not oppose their enjoyment of the right of free discussion—but we oppose their monstrous perversions of the truth—their malignant calumniations—their meddlesomeness with their neighbors business—their violations of honor and good fellowship—their treasonable and unconstitutional measures against the federal compact—and their conspiracies against the welfare of the whole Southern people. The hue of their opinions is rather too well known to admit of our belief of their sincerity when they talk in favor of free discussion—when the majority of their favorite doctrines and measures can be advanced only by appointing them as censors over the public press.

The Exeter News Letter has mistaken the cause of the result of the affair between Miss Moy and ourself. Agreeably to the arrangements made by our second, Cleopatra, (who, we regret to announce, has determined to leave Boston on the 25th instant,) the meeting was to take place on Tuesday afternoon last, at Lynn Beach—the pistols were ready—the coffee ground—our lodgings announced, a la Towson, and every thing in a proper state of preparation, when the following paragraph appeared in the Salem Gazette:—

"Chinese Lady.—It will be seen by referring to our advertising columns, that the exhibition at Concert Hall, is to be continued for this evening only, and that the price of admission is reduced to twenty five cents."

Ah, Mr News Letter, you should have seen Egypt's queen when she read the above five lines—a typhoon is a zephyr in comparison with the fury of her indignant feelings—the idea that a person who would exhibit herself at half price! Twenty-five cents!! should expect, or would be allowed to receive honorable satisfaction, was the very climax of impudence—the thought was not to be entertained for a moment—the charge was drawn from the pistols, (two sugar plumbs and a drop of peppermint,) the coffee-pot kicked over by Cleo's delicate foot, and the whole affair dismissed sans ceremonie.

The Gold Currency.—The Major, of the Atlas, appears to be in a good deal of trouble about the "gold currency." He is continually crying out, "where is it." Now the Major knows very well that he has been offered gold but had not its value to return in exchange for it. A few mornings since, after he had been enquiring loudly for gold, a lad offered him a half Eagle, but the Major, after shaking all the stiches out of his pockets in search of its equivalent, was obliged to let the yellow bird go, as he said he was unable to change it. You had better get your pockets mended Major, and at least have five dollars in them before you inquire again for the "gold currency."

☞ The unprovoked and inhuman attack upon the venerable Dr Bede, in the N. Y. Transcript, will not be suffered to pass unnoticed. A time will come, Mr Transcript, when the Doctor will vindicate his character in a manner that will make you quake—the immortal inventor of the Elongated Corkscrew is not to be trifled with, you may be assured.

The Atlas asserts that the author of "LEON" is a German. This we have directly denied—the Atlas knows its assertion to be untrue, yet wilfully repeats the lie.

The School Dinner, yesterday, we are informed, was gotten up in good style, and passed off to the gratification and entire satisfaction of the company present.

"A Visit to the American Churches, by Drs. Reed and Matheson," has been published by the Harpers in two handsome volumes. They contain a general view of the moral condition of the country, and a geographical, and something of a political, description of those portions of it the travellers passed over. We regret to see in a work of this character a statement so false as that "Mr Jefferson founded the Charlotteville University on avowedly skeptical and infidel principles." The Reverend Doctors must have been most grossly deceived if they believed this to be true. We copy the following from some remarks about the Common in this city, as it supports the opinion we published upon the same subject some time since:—

"I cannot dismiss this spot without expressing a fear that, in their excess of love, the Bostonians may spoil it. I observed with regret that a number of young trees had been recently planted over this park, which, if allowed to grow up as they stand, will entirely destroy the charming effect of this picture. What had been previously done, had been done with great taste and efficiency; but if the present plantations are realized, there will be a few French avenues, and nothing more."

One of the authors pays a just tribute to the character of our merchants in the second volume, p. 190:—

"I know it has been said, as against the higher morality of this people, that their merchants are less honorable than ours. I have given some attention to this, as it is certainly an important allegation; and as I had found reason partly to give it my acquiescence. I suppose it will be easily admitted, that no mercantile interests were ever more honorably conducted than are those of Great Britain. But honor is conventional, and of slow growth; and when matured it has a tendency to self preservation; so that a person finds with us, that he can scarcely be a merchant without being a man of honor.

To try the American merchant by such a test, may be sufficiently severe; yet he need not shrink from it. He is certainly less influenced by what is conventional; but he is, at least, equally affected by what is properly moral. I have every reason to think, that the regular and accredited merchant of the States, is as upright in his transactions, as steady to his contracts, and is governed by as high a sense of justice, as are the merchants of the old world."

A review of our whole character, political and religious, near the conclusion of the second volume, is concluded thus:—

"Who shall doubt of such a people? They are full of hope themselves, and they create hope in others.—Every thing about them contributes to nourish it. They are born into national existence in the most auspicious times. All the lessons of wisdom which have been suggested through ages to other nations are at their command. They begin their course just where other empires have closed theirs. Their field of action is so vast, that they may put forth the mightiest energies, without exposure to hostile interests and barbarous warfare. They need fear no foe, and therefore they need not embarrass themselves with alliances which might lead to a conflict and bloodshed. They have the fairest opportunity of showing how little a Government may be felt as a burden, and how much as a blessing, silently diffusing life, liberty, and joy, over an immense community. The people are aware of this, and are ennobled by their circumstances.—They believe all things, and they will accomplish all things."

Trade of Boston.—A writer in the Daily Advertiser is engaged in pointing out to the merchants of Boston some of the reasons why they do not obtain more of the trade of the Southern and Western States. He states that the merchants here are proverbially illiberal, compared with those of New York, Baltimore, or Philadelphia, and that they are not sufficiently ready to extend their accommodations to strangers. The Southern merchants who come to Boston to buy goods are, generally speaking, men who are independent in their feelings and circumstances—they bring letters of the highest credit—but notwithstanding all this, as soon as it is ascertained that the customer is from a distant place, and wants ten months credit, he is regarded with distrust,—and consequently turns upon his heel disgusted, and returns to New York or Baltimore to make his purchases. Notwithstanding his solvency and large capital, he is justified in asking a credit of ten months, for three reasons, as assigned by the writer in the Daily, viz:

"First, it requires a long time to get the goods home, 60 to 90 days, half the customary length of credit—Secondly, those who buy here are to a considerable extent a sort of wholesale merchants, and sell out to smaller dealers in their neighborhoods, to whom they give long credits.—Thirdly, those who retail the goods are obliged to give, as in all new agricultural and planting districts they must, twelve months credit."

The writer, whose views and opinions are consonant with our own, continues:

"Yet, after all, the Western and Southern traders pay sooner than the New England traders as a body. Here we give six months—our customers take EIGHTEEN. The Southerner asks for ten, and pays when it is due through bank, or else fails; the Yankee wants but six, takes ten, twelve, eighteen, and as much more as he can get; will pay some time, nobody knows when. * * * We are strong in the belief that the business of Boston might be doubled in five years, if our merchants would turn their attention to the trade of which we speak; if they would traverse the distant States, make themselves acquainted with the wants and resources of the inhabitants, and ascertain those facts which would give them an intelligent confidence in their reputation and habits; and IF those who control our large manufacturing establishments would just keep their goods at home, in Boston, and permit those who want them to come after them, and when they do come give them the most indulgent terms they can afford."

Mr. John Marsh, of Danvers, recently lost a yoke of fat oxen from his pasture, and subsequently found them in Charlestown, where they had been sold by two young men who had been employed by him the first of the season. He tracked the thieves to the neighborhood of Bangor, where they were arrested—they have been brought back to Danvers and bound over.

Characteristic.—The editor of the Dunstable Telegraph says that he shall not read the Address of the Baltimore Convention—this is the way with the majority of the opposition—they only read upon one side of the question, and thus go on, half blindfolded, tumbling over every political pebble that lies in their path.

The Tremont Theatre was very full last evening; the military portion of the audience made a very handsome display, and were received and treated with every mark of respect and courtesy.

The Salem Gazette denies that the brig Gleaner, from the coast of Africa, entered that port with a deck load of monkeys, as reported in the Daily Advertiser.

The Baltimore papers say that the brave and venerable General SMITH will probably receive the unanimous vote of the city for the Mayoralty.

MUNICIPAL COURT.

[Wednesday, August 15—Commonwealth vs. John A. Silloway—cheating by false pretences.]

Intelligence Office Keepers.—We copy, for the edification of such intelligence brokers, as live by preying on the poor and friendless, the following extract, being only one-third part of a long bill presented by the Grand Jury to one of their worshipful fraternity.—We hope they will not be deterred, either by its length, or technicality, and uncouth phraseology, from giving it an attentive perusal, for they will find in it much food for grave reflection:—

"The Jurors for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, on their oath present—that John A. Silloway of Boston, Intelligence Office Keeper, on the 26th day of June, &c. being a person of an evil disposition, and devising and intending by unlawful ways and means, to obtain and get into his hands and possession the goods, merchandize, chattels, and effects of the honest and good citizens of this Commonwealth, and with intent to cheat and defraud one Josiah M Magoon, a person then and there seeking and wishing for employment as a servant on hire and for wages, did then and there unlawfully, knowingly, and designedly, falsely pretend and represent to said Magoon, that he the said Silloway knew of persons who wanted to employ and hire servants in their families, in their bar rooms, and in their stables, and who probably would hire and employ said Magoon on wages, and that he would give true and correct references and directions to such persons, if he the said Magoon would then and there give said Silloway One Dollar for said references.

And the said Josiah M. Magoon then and there believing the said false pretences and representations, so made as aforesaid by the said John A. Silloway, and being deceived thereby, was induced, by reason of the false pretences and representations so made as aforesaid, to deliver and did then and there deliver to the said Silloway One Dollar of the proper money and property of said Magoon. And the said Silloway did then and there receive and obtain the said money and property of the said Magoon, by means of the false pretences and representations aforesaid, and with the intent to cheat and defraud the said Magoon of the same money and property, whereas in truth and fact the said Silloway then and there did not know of persons who wanted to employ and hire servants in their families in their bar rooms, and in their stables, and who probably would hire and employ said Magoon on wages, and said Silloway then and their could not give true and correct references and directions, to such persons, and would not give to said Magoon such true and correct references and directions, to such persons for One Dollar, but taking from said Magoon said sum of One Dollar, he gave him false and useless references and directions to other persons, and so the Jurors aforesaid, upon their oaths aforesaid, do say that the said John A. Silloway, by means of the false pretences aforesaid, &c. unlawfully, knowingly, and designedly did receive and obtain from said Magoon the said sum of One Dollar of the proper money and property of the said Magoon, with intent to defraud him of the same, against the peace of said Commonwealth, and contrary to the form of the statute in such case made and provided."

In addition to the preceding count, alleging a fraud practised on Magoon by Silloway, there were two other counts, alleging precisely similar frauds, in the same terms, on one Benjamin Palmer and Daniel Johnson. Each of the three sufferers took receipts from Silloway, which both prove and express definitely the contracts entered into by each party, viz:—

Boston, June 26, 1835.

Recd. of Josiah M. Magoon One Dollar for which I agree to find him a situation in business to suit him, by Tuesday next or return the money,

J. A. SILLOWAY.

Boston, June 3, 1835.

Recd. of Benj. Palmer One Dollar for which I agree to find him a place to suit him in three days or refund his money.

J. A. SILLOWAY.

Boston, June 11, 1835

Recd. of Daniel Johnson One Dollar for which I agree to find him a place to suit him in one week or return his money.

J. A. SILLOWAY.

The way Silloway performed these obligations was "a caution to Crockett." In the first place, he obtained the books of a former broker in the city, named Lewis, whose business was destroyed by the troublesome interference of the Grand Jury, last winter. He transcribed the names from Lewis's old record on to his own books, and sent the applicants to the places therein indicated, and persisted in this system, till one of the persons who was thus pestered by applications for hire, threatened to prosecute him. In one instance, Magoon, a man of several years standing, was sent to a place where they wanted a little boy, willing to work for his clothes; and the nearest approach he made to obtain a situation at Silloway's office, was when a man called at the office for a likely chamebrmaid, and Magoon followed him out on the sidewalk, and had a talk with him. In this part of the case, it must be admitted, that Magoon faltered a little, when the defendant's counsel asked him if "he considered himself competent to render all the services required of a chambermaid." After some little hesitation, he denied that he applied for the respectable office of chambermaid, but inquired if the person man was in want of a man, but could not come to terms with him. Magoon finally obtained employment at Charlestown, without the agency of Silloway, who notwithstanding failed to pay back the money, and ordered him out of his office when he became decided in his demand for it.

With regard to Palmer and Johnson, Silloway likewise entirely failed to fulfill any part of his contracts.—In truth, he appears to have suffered much from honest Jack Falstaff's infirmity—he didn't "like that same paying back;"—whether it were to "return," or to "refund," it was still "double trouble." To Johnson, indeed, after much importunity, he gave the following "due bill:"—

Good to Daniel Johnson for One Dollar on demand value recd.

J. A. SILLOWAY.

Boston, June 15, 1835.

The giving of this due bill, Silloway's counsel unsuccessfully contended, was equivalent to paying back the dollar; but certainly, if the scrap of paper was not "good to Daniel Johnson for one dollar," it was "good to" S. D. Parker, Esq. for a severe sarcasm or two upon the defendant's credit in the stock market; he would not admit it to be worth a fourpence. Silloway was ingeniously and zealously defended by Col. Prescott, and as decisively denounced by Mr Parker. After the jury had been out about half an hour, they came into Court, and their foreman declared that there was no prospect of their being able to agree upon a verdict. We understood there were eleven for convicting, and one for acquitting him. He was then ordered to recognize in the sum of $150, for his appearance at the nent term, to undergo another trial.

One Dollar and six Cents, and not two dollars and six cents, is the price offered for making gentlemen's shoes in Lynn.

The manufacture of spurious coin for Hayti and South America, is carried on to considerable extent. A schooner arrived here from Belleville, New Jersey, on Thursday with 380 boxes of it—each containing $1200, made entirely of copper—amounting to $456.000. They were to be glossed over, previous to exportation. She was seized by the customs, but liberated for want of some specific law, and from the plea of its being manufactured copper.—N. Y. Paper.

It is proposed to organize a City Guard in Baltimore to consist of one hundred persons from each ward, fully armed, equipped and officered.

Five of the convicts working outside the Penitentiary at Washington, made their escape by overcoming the officer who had charge of them. Four of them were retaken.

Elections.—In Kentucky, Richard French (Adm.) is elected to Congress from the district represented last year by Amos Davis, (W.) This leaves the Kentucky representation, so far as heard from, divided as it was in the last Congress. The members ascertained to be elected, are Chilton Allen, John Chambers, Wm. J Graves,, Richard French, James Harlan, R. M. Johnson, John White, Benj Hardin, John Calhoon. [Those in italics are Whigs.] Four more districts to be heard from.

In Indiana, according to the Globe, Messrs. Carr, Boon, Hannegan, McCarty, and Kinnard, all in favor of the Administration, are re-elected. Ewing (W.) is also re-elected.

Alabama.—In five counties heard from, there were 2504 votes for C. C. Clay (Adm.) as Governor, and 2154 for Parsons, (Nullifier.)

Bibb county gives 389 votes to Lawler for Congress, 341 to May, and 129 to Shortbridge.

St. Louis, (Missouri,) Aug. 1.—A rencontre of a fatal nature took place last evening, in the lower end of the city, between two Spaniards, who arrived a few days since on board the George Collier. The quarrel is said to have originated on board the boat, during her passage up, and was terminated late last evening with knives. One of the parties was stabbed in the right breast, ranging downwards, with a knife about 14 inches long, driven in with such force as to bury nearly the whole of the handle in the body. The other was stabbed in the abdomen, ranging across, his bowels protruding from the wound. The former died instantaneously, and the latter is not expected to survive. This part of the city has for some time past become the resort of a band of desperadoes, who make a practice of cutting each other's throats with the most perfect nonchalance. Would it not be well for our city authorities to give this den an overhauling.—Bulletin.

A Down East Editor.—E. Holmes of the Maine Farmer, seems, according to the following advertisement, to be run aground, at his farm, for want of utensils:—

The several individuals who have at sundry times borrowed of the subscriber the following articles, viz, two axes, one wheelbarrow, two garden rakes, one hay rake, three hoes, two horse and cart harnesses, one common bridle, one pair of reins, besides many other articles too numerous to mention, are requested never to bring them home—it being contrary to the custom of the place. But if they will give him information when they have done with them, he will send for them.

E. HOLMES.

N. B.—The person who either borrowed my pitchfork and returned it broken, or broke it where it was left, is informed that he is welcome to the pieces.

Liverpool papers to the 14th ult. have been received in New York.—The 12th of July, being the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne, was the occasion of serious riots at Belfast and Liverpool. At Galway 1800 famalies were in a state bordering on starvation. The Irish Church bill had been passed to a second reading in the House of Commons. The King had placed at the disposal of Parliament his Majesty's interests in all benefices in the Church of Ireland. 400 men had been recruited at Dublin for the service of the Queen of Spain: and 350 were about to embark from Cork. A slaver, "El Formidable," with 700 slaves, has been captured by the Br. vessel of war Buzzard, of 10 guns. The slaver had 8 guns and 66 men. The B. had 6 men wounded. The Forester captured in the Bright of Benin, March 20, a Spanish brig with 200 slaves.

Public Meeting at Charleston, S. C.—A great public meeting of the citizens of Charleston, S C., was held on the 10th inst. to receive the report of the Committee of twenty-one, appointed at the meeting of the 4th inst. in relation to the subject of introducing incendiary pamphlets, &c into the slave holding States. A preamble and resolutions were adopted—in which is strongly urged the importance of adopting effectual measures on the part of the General or State Government, or by the people of the non-slaveholding States by calling a Convention or otherwise, for the suppression of the great and growing evil complained of—and that unless something of this nature should be effected, it will become the solemn duty of the Slaveholding States to adopt the most decisive and efficacious measures TO PROTECT THEMSELVES.—Merc.

Remarkable Cure.—A young man in this village had a finger cut off by the blade of a hay-cutter a few days since. It was divided between the first and second joints. Dr. Deane was called in about fifteen minutes afterward; the severed portion had fallen among the hay, and was then pale and cold; it was taken up, washed in warm water, secured on the stump by sewing and bandages, and is now entirely re-united. This fact should serve as a lesson in all similar cases, to 'save the pieces.'—Franklin Merc.

Some of the Bank papers are complaining of a scarcity of specie and with an air of triumph ask, where are the Jackson Eagles. When that great cage at Philadelphia and the thousands of little cages distributed about the country shall have been destroyed—then and not till then will the democratic Eagles perch upon the hard hand of toil, and gladen the heart of the tradesman. There are now caged in the vaults of the bank at Philadaphia, about ONE MILLION of Eagles bright from the mint.—Gloucester Dem.

A week Later from Buenos Ayres—We have received Buenos Ayres papers to the 13th June. "The functions in honor of the new government," says the British Packet of that date, "still continue. Such a series of rejoicings has certainly never taken place before in this country."

The Government of Montevideo have issued a decree opening the ports of that Republic to Spanish vessels, "upon the same conditions as national vessels in the port of Spain."—Jour. Com.

Shocking Accident.—Yesterday afternoon, as a lad aged 16 years, son of Mr Fox, schoolmaster, was amusing himself with rocking upon a stone on the cellar wall of the new school-house now erecting in Tremont street, he lost his balance, and was precipitated into the cellar, followed by the stone, which fell upon him and crushed him to death in a most horrid manner.—Briggs.

Ingenious Villainy.—A Southern house, on receiving a case of English mustard, manufactured in Hull, and sent from this city, found every bottle enveloped in an abolition speech from the debates in Parliament. The article being of a domestic character, would naturally have been handed over to the blacks in the kitchen, and thus secretly circulated.—N. Y. Paper.

A pregnant woman, far advanced, while being removed during the fire, Wednesday, from a building in Ann street, through the fright, was safely delivered in the middle of the street of a fine child. His name should be Blaze.

The canal tolls of Pennsylvania up to July 14th exceed $400,000, which is already double the amount of the same period last year.

TO THE PUBLIC.—At a meeting of the Massachusetts Anti-Slavery society, duly held in Boston, on Monday, August 17th, A. D. 1835,

VOTED:—That the following Address to the Public, be subscribed by the undersigned Committee, and published in the Newspapers.

Attest. SAMUEL J. MAY, Sec'y.

ADDRESS.

The Massachusetts Anti Slavery society, and others concurring generally in its principles, feel it to be their duty to themselves and the community, to make the following public declaration and disavowal. We offer this statement, at the present time, because the attempt is now made, to fix upon Abolitionists sentiments and intentions which they abhor;—because the suppression of our opinions by open force is recommended, and has been, in numerous cases, already commenced;—and because we are confident the public would think more favorably of our opinions and purposes, if they were better understood.

We are charged with violating, or wishing to violate, the Constitution of the United States. What have we done, what have we said, to warrant this charge? We have held public meetings, and taken other usual means of convincing our countrymen that slave-holding is sin, and, like all sin, ought to be, and can be, immediately abandoned. We have said, in the words of the Declaration of Independence, that "ALL MEN are created equal," and that liberty is an unalienable gift of God to every man. We know of no clause in the Constitution, which forbids our saying this. We appeal to the calm judgment of the community, to decide, in view of recent events, whether the measures of the friends, or those of the opposers of abolition, are more justly chargeable with the violation of the Constitution and laws. Have we opposed the freedom of speech? Have we attempted to prevent discussion, and disperse orderly meetings by force? Have we intercepted the public mail? Have we incited mobs, burnt effigies, torn down dwellings, despoiled churches, put men to death without trial?

It is said that the Constitution of the United States forbids our acting, in any way, on this subject. Admit, for a moment, that slavery is, as is so confidently asserted, guaranteed by the Constitution: is not the liberty of speech and of the press also explicitly guaranteed? and if it be found that they cannot coexist, the question is before the country,—which of them is best worth preserving? But in truth, there are but three allusions to slavery in that instrument. One clause provides for a slave representation in Congress;—a second forbids Congress to prohibit the African Slave Trade, till the year 1808;—and the third enacts that "persons held to service or labor" in one state, escaping into another, shall be delivered up, on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due. Can our opposers think that these sections contain any prohibition of speaking or writing on the subject of slavery?

To the union of these States we feel a deep attachment. No price can be paid to great for its preservation, but the sacrifice of honor and principle. It is because we love our whole country, that we think it full time to discuss, at least the remedy for an evil which has been at the root of most of our national difficulties, and which is daily gathering a fearful importance to our honor, our liberty, our existence as a nation, that will permit no patriot to be silent.

It is intimated, that we are guilty of circulating incendiary publications among the southern slaves. We utterly deny this calumny, and call to the proof! We have no design and no means to address the slaves. Nothing can be further from our wishes, than to excite the slave population. We should consider any action of this kind as far worse than useless—as highly dangerous,—and as little less criminal than murder. Why should we seek to promote insurrection? What should we not lose by it? As merchants and mechanics, as citizens and parents, as patriots and Christians, we have as much to risk, as others in this community;—and we know that such an event, would be the greatest calamity to the slave, and to the cause of freedom. No Anti-Slavery society,—and no person connected with any Anti-Slavery Society, is believed to have ever circulated among the slaves, any publication whatever, —as is so often hinted, but never yet, we believe, distinctly charged, by the opposers of our cause. We solemnly pledge ourselves, that if it can be shown, that any person, connected with our cause, has ever circulated inflammatory tracts among the slaves, or with a view to be read by them,—we will publicly renounce him as a foe to the peace of society, and to the best interests of the oppressed.

We refer our fellow citizens to any and all of our publications, peremptorily denying that there can be found in them a sentence from which could be inferred other counsel to the slaves than this, "to suffer injury long and still be kind," "not to avenge themselves, but give place unto wrath."

"The attempt is made to delude the community into the belief, that Abolitionists are willing to secure the emancipation of the slaves, [illegible] of the safety of the whites. We deny this charge in the most [illegible]. We have never advocated the right of physical resistance, on the part of the oppressed. We assure our assailants, that we would not sacrifice the life of a single slave-holder to emancipate every slave in the United States. On the contrary, we are fully persuaded that the triumph of our principles is the only means of tranquility or safety, for our country.

The foolish tale that we would encourage amalgamation by intermarriage, between the whites and blacks, though often refuted, as often re-appears. We shall content ourselves with a simple denial of this charge. We challenge our opponents to point to one of our publications in which such intermarriages are recommended. One of our objects is to prevent the amalgamation now going one, so far as can be done, by placing one million of the females of this country under the protection of law.

We are accused of interfering in the domestic concerns of the Southern States. We would ask those, who charge this, to explain precisely what they mean by "interference." If, by interference be meant any attempt to legislate for the Southern States, or to compel them, by force or intimidation, to emancipate their slaves, we, at once, deny any such pretension. We are utterly opposed to any force on the subject, but that of conscience and reason, which are "mighty through God, in the pulling down of strong holds." We fully acknowledge, that no change in the slave-laws of the Southern States can be made, unless by the Southern Legislatures. Neither Congress, nor the Legislatures of the Free States, have authority to change the condition of a single slave in the slave states. But, if by "interference" be intended the exercise of the right of freely discussing this subject, and, by speech and through the press, creating a public sentiment, which will reach the conscience, and blend with the convictions of the slave-holder, and thus ultimately work the complete extinction of slavery, this is a species of interference which we can never consent to relinquish. We add (what we have uniformly said) that on the subject of our relations with the Southern States, we fully concur in the sentiments of our fellow citizen, Daniel Webster, in his published letter to Mr Bolton. We desire at the same time, distinctly to avow our convictions, as according with those of many of the most eminent statesmen in the country, in regard to the constitutionality and expediency of immediate legislative action, in the abolition of Slavery and the Slave Trade in the district of Columbia—where, in the words of the Constitution, Congress has power "to exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever."

But, whatever may be thought of the tendency of our principles, we claim, as our Constitutional right, the privilege to discuss and promulgate them. The Constitution of the United States prohibits Congress from making any law "to abridge the freedom of speech or of the press." The Constitution of Massachusetts expressly guarantees the "right, in an orderly and peaceable manner, to assemble to consult upon the common good," and asserts,—not that sound opinions only shall be tolerated, but that "the LIBERTY OF THE PRESS is essential to the security of FREEDOM in a State; it ought not, therefore, to be restrained, in this Commonwealth."

We respectfully ask our fellow citizens, whether we are to be deprived of these sacred privileges,—and, if so, whether the sacrifice of our rights will not involve consequences dangerous to all men, and even personal freedom. We have violated—we mean to violate, no law. We have acted, we shall continue to act, under the sanction of the Constitution of the United States. Nothing that we propose to do, can be prevented by our opposers, without violating the Charter of our rights. To the Law, and to the Constitution we appeal.

ESSEX DYE HOUSE.—JOHN G. BITTNER, Silk, Cotton, Linen and Woollen Dyer, would inform his friends and the public generally of Boston, Lynn and Salem, that he has taken a stand in Centre street, [illegible] the following articles, viz—and Finish in the best manner, broadcloths—cassimeres—satins—lustrings—crapes—silk and cotton velvets—worsted cords—camel's hair shawls—hosiery and gloves—plush—ribbons &c—also, lace veils—leghorn and straw bonnets—ostrich and other feathers. Ladies and gentlemen's woollen garments, such as dress coats—great coats and frock coats—surtouts—vests and pantaloons—ladies' habits—cloaks &c, dyed and pressed, so as to appear like new, without being ripped.

J. G. B. would give further notice, that he cleanses and finishes Ladies' and Gentlemen's Garments of every description, without ripping, in a style heretofore unknown to the public; also, military garments, that are spoiled by sweat or gunpowder, can be restored to their original color, without injury to the cloth. Merino and Cashmere Shawls cleansed without injury to the borders—Carpets—woollen Table Cloths &c.

All articles left at the Dye House, or with JOHN REED, Salem—JOHN BOWLER, Lynn—WM TROUP, No 50 Hanover street, Boston, will receive prompt attention, and will be returned in fourteen days from the time they are left.

J. G. B. having had upwards of 17 years' experience in the above business, is confident that he can give undoubted satisfaction. Those that favor him with their custom may depend upon having their work done with despatch, in the best possible manner, and on the most reasonable terms. He asks a share of that patronage which he is determined to merit.

NATHANIEL P. SNELLING respectfully gives notice to his friends and the public generally, that he is now prepared to execute any orders in the line of his profession at the shortest notice and in the most workmanlike manner, having made extensive alterations by the addition of the store adjoining, and other improvements, which will enable him to conduct a genteel Tailoring Establishment on the most extensive scale, and by strict attention to his calling, at least to merit a share of public patronage. Having made arrangements with Merchant Tailors in New York and Philadelphia to transmit immediately on arrival the London Fashions, which will enable gentlemen to furnish themselves in the first style, and sooner than can be procured in any other establishment in this city.

N. P. S. has just received from New York a splendid assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, and Fancy Vesting. Gentlemen are requested to call and examine for themselves, particularly some splendid Cloths and London Quiltings.

N. P. S continues the agency of Tailors' Chalk, an article well known by the trade as being well adapted to drawing lines on stuffs, and is easily erased.

Also, a large assortment of Tape Measures, some of them a first rate article, which is much wanted by the trade in general.

☞ Orders for any of the above will be promptly attended to if addressed to NATHANIEL P. SNELLING, m6 Nos 10 & 12 Congress street, Boston.

PURE BEAR'S OIL may be had by the groce, dozen or single bottle, of A. BOYDEN, Hancock-st.

As in all cases, so especially in this, Venders, if they wish to secure the patronage of the public, should be extremely cautious not to sell an article for the Hair which tends to counteract rather than assist nature.

The virtues of Bear's Oil have been too long tested to need any eulogium; and at this time no one can doubt of its being the very best article for strengthening and promoting the growth of the Hair. An honest prejudice against the use of Bear's Oil has long existed, arising from two causes—the improper method of purifying it, and the imposition upon the public of a spurious article. That this prejudice may be wholly removed, this article now offered is warranted the pure Oil, rendered more pleasant by the addition of a little perfume—and the possibility of its injuring the Hair is entirely precluded by the manner in which it has been purified. To prevent fraud, the genuine is enclosed in two wrappers, the inside one being signed Arnold Boyden. aug 15

DR. PHELPS' ARCANUM.—This Syrup is celebrated for the Cure of Scrofula, Eruptions or Diseases of the skin, Syphilis or Venereal Complaints, Rheumatism, Ulcers in the Throat and other parts of the Body, Mercurial Affections, Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Blood, Deep seated pains in the Muscles, Bones, &c. and a regenerator of emaciated and broken Constitutions, caused by disease, intemperance, &c.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Having been made acquainted with the medical qualities and witnessed the effects of "Dr Phelps' Arcanum," I feel much confidence in saying it is a preparation of medicine greatly superior to any thing of the kind, in curing those chronic diseases for which it is intended, and recommend it to invalids in preference to any other article whatever.

SAMUEL L. MITCHELL, M. D.

New York, March 25, 1830.

My knowledge of the properties and operation of the "Arcanum of Dr Phelps," justify me in saying that it is far superior to any depurative syrup with which I am acquainted. In the most obstinate and ambiguous deseases, it displays effects peculiarly surprising. In those affections that resist the skill of the physician, such as Rheumatism, Syphilis, Scrofula, Ulcerations, and Diseases of the Skin, &c., I would recommend it as worthy of great confidence. JOHN D. GODMAN, M. D.

Philadelphia, Nov. 27, 1829.

For the last few years I have suffered excessively by a Billious Mercurial Disease, which has rendered me frequently unfit for duty, and confined me as often to my berth. My disease was the sequela of bad treatment, while in the more tropical latitudes, and laboring under an acute inflamation of the liver, and other Billiary organs. Prior and subsequently to our arrival in this port, I have had recourse to a great variety of prescriptions, medicines and nostrums—among which, were a number of bottles of Swaim's Panacea, Potter's Catholicon, the Rob of Laffecteur, &c., but without any benefit—Dr Phelps being at that time a student of medicine in the University of Pennsylvania, advised me to make use of a newly discovered medicine, the Arcanum, which he believed would succeed in relieving me, in consequence of the very signal effects himself and others had observed in its operation in various glandular diseases, that were otherwise considered incurable. I commenced its use accordingly, and it affords me pleasure to state, that for several months past, not a vestige of the original or secondary disease has been discoverable. I prize the medicine above all others with which I have ever been acquainted. It is both pleasant and I believe certain in its effects, as a remedy in a variety of chronic diseases, incident to tropical and other climates. J. ANDREWS, Purser of the Columbian Brig Pinchinca.

Philadelphia, Jan. 5, 1835.

SAVANNAH, 6th March, 1831.

GENT.—I cannot refrain from expressing my gratitude to you in offering me a bottle of DR PHELPS' ARCANUM, as an experiment in my case of Rheumatism. I have been dreadfully afflicted for upwards of twelve months, and for the last four or five months have scarcely been able to walk. I have used a dozen bottles of Swaim's Panacea, and found very little benefit from it. After taking the bottle of Arcanum, I found such a change in my whole system, that I was induced to try another, and to my surprise, the pains in my legs all disappeared, and the Ulcers in one have completely healed up, and I can walk nearly as well as ever. I shall continue to take two bottles more, and firmly believe it will make a complete cure of my disease. I remain, gentlemen, yours very respectfully,

JNO. MORRALL.

Messrs Lay & Hendrickson, Druggists, Savannah, (Geo.)

Extract of a letter from Dr Jones, a highly respectable physician, dated Baton Rogue, Louisiana, Dec. 28, 1833.—The Arcanum had two powerful competitors, Swaim's Panacea, and Potter's Catholicon, which have been for years in circulation in this place. As far as I have had an opportunity of ascertaining its virtues, I believe the Arcanum to be superior to any article of the kind, yet offered to the public. I prescribed it in a case of Irritable Ulcer of three years standing, situated on the Malleolus Extrenus—the individual thus afflicted was much emaciated and debilitated,—after one week's attendance, I put him upon the Arcanum, following the directions—three bottles nearly effected a cure of the ulcer and bodily health.

I prescribed it in several Mercurial and Syphilitic Affections, where it proved salutary. I am at this time trying the Arcanum on an individual, who has been laboring under Ulcerous affections of one of his legs, for fifteen years,—he has taken 1 bottle only, and it has produced that effect, he is sanguine in the belief, it will effect a permanent cure.

FROM ONE THOUSAND TO TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS REWARD.

WHEREAS during the eighteen months' practice of the subscriber on the Thomsonian principle, at his Infirmary for healing the sick, in Harvard street in Boston, under the patronage of Doct SAMUEL THOMSON, the Father of said system—out of the twenty years' acquaintance he has had with the same, he has had several hundred cases of disease under his care, of that character with which mankind are generally afflicted—the patients being of all ages, from the infant to the aged man—a great portion of whom have been cured, and generally all benefited—not one having died under his care at the Infirmary,—and whereas the foregoing facts ought of themselves alone, in all free, enquiring minds, completely to establish the superior efficacy of the botanical remedies of Doctor Jesse Thompson* of Mt Vernon Infirmary,) over those of any other known medical system, whether the same be of ancient or modern date, even apart from a body of evidence that can be adduced from living witnesses, certificates and other documents, showing the progress and extent of this system, which is fast spreading over the United States; which facts have constrained many of the leading members of the Faculty, among whom are the venerable and scientific Doctors Waterhouse and Ingalls, to throw off the trammels of prejudice, and bear honorable testimony in favor of this practice—

NOW, THEREFORE, the subscriber hereby proposes and offers to the government of the Massachusetts General Hospital, or to any other medical institution established in Massachusetts, under the superintendence of the most popular and skilful physicians, to take one half of any number of patients that may apply for admission in said hospital, and remove the same to his infirmary; and he will pledge himself under a forfeiture of from ONE TO TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS, to effect more cures in less than half the time that the faculty may consume on the other portion left in the hospital.

Should this offer be accepted, the undersigned will give satisfactory security to pay the aforesaid sum or sums of money in case he incurs the forfeiture, and shall expect the faculty to do the same. ANDREW WATKINS, Botanic Physician.

BURNS AND SCALDS.
A POSITIVE CURE.

ANTI-PHLOGISTIC PASTE, for Burns and Scalds, Erysipelas and Phlegmonous Inflammation, St Anthony's Fire, Erythema, Shingles, Stings and bites of Insects, Inflamed Blisters, Vegetable Poisons, Chapped Hands, &c.—Fever Sores, (Necrosis) Biles, Inflamed Breasts, Whitlow, Abscesses, Carbuncles, Gangrene, &c.; Sore Legs, Ulcers of every description, Schirrous Tumors and Glands, Bruises and Sprains—Fractures. Contused and Lacerated Wounds—every grade of Gunshot Wounds. It is sure to give immediate relief, and a healthy action to the living parts, and we can hardly conceive of a fracture or wound so bad as to cause death, or need amputation, if the Paste be timely and properly applied. All inflammations of a specific character, as Scrofulous Tumors, Glands, Ulcers, and Abscesses—White Swellings, and Inflamed Joints from any cause.

Scrofulous Humors, and every other species of Eruptions, as Salt Rheum, Herpes, Scalded head, Ringworm, Pimpled Face and Blotches. It is a specific for the Piles, giving immediate relief. Local Syphilitic Inflammation it is sure to remove, and prevent suppuration in the worst cases.

In all the above diseases the Paste has but one action, which is the removal of heat, pain, swelling, and more or less of fever—when this is done, nature soon finishes the cure, or the diseased parts become well simultaneously. It needs no certificates—use it, and you will know more of it than can be told you.

White Swellings, Sore Legs and Ulcers, Glandular Tumors, Felons, Rheumatic Pains, Sprains and Bruises, Burns and Scalds, Inflammation in Women's Breasts, Glandular Swellings, old and fresh Wounds, Chilblains, Tetters, Piles, Ringworms, Eruptions of long standing and Sore Eyes.

Prepared only by JAMES S. GLASCOE, Cincinnati, who is duly authorised by Dr Judkins, as will appear on the bill of directions.

From the Hon J. Taliaferro, member of Congress and member of the late convention.

Richmond, 9th Nov 1829.

SIR—It has been my wish for a considerable time, to communicate the good effect with which I have used your 'Patent Specific Ointment.' I have applied this ointment during the last four years, to every species of tumor and wound without failure to produce a cure in every intance. I consider it the most decided and efficacious remedy in all cases of tumor, be the cause what it may, and I have found nothing so good for wounds of any description. It may be proper to add that the cure of a tumor called White Swelling, given over by the most distinguished physicians as incurable, and which they decided would, without amputation, prove fatal to the patient, was, under my immediate notice, effected by the use of your ointment, and the patient is in fine health, his limb affected by the tumor being restored to a perfect state of soundness. Also, that the leg of a man upwards of 80 years old, which had been wounded, and exhibited one dreadfully ulcerated surface from knee to foot, and which for more than two years had been considered incurable, was effectually cured by the application of this ointment. I mention these two cases which fell under my immediate notice and management, as a decided evidence of the efficacy of this remedy in cases of tumor and of ulcers. I have experienced as decidedly the good effect of this remedy in the cure of felons and every species of fresh wound.

In addition to the above cases it may be proper to state what I know of its sure effects as a remedy in all cases of scrofulous tumor. A most violent and hopeless case of this description occurred in a servant of my own. It had baffled the most skilful medical treatment, but was subdued by Judkins's ointment.'

Dr Wm Judkins JOHN TALIAFERRO

From the Hon J. Coke, member of the House of Representatives in Congress.

Washington city, March 26 1826.

SIR—My son having been afflicted for five years with white swelling, and having applied every remedy recommended by the most eminent physicians within my reach, without success, I at length procured one jug of Dr Judkins's patent specific ointment, and made the application according to the directions accompanying the ointment; and state for the benefit of the afflicted, that before one jug was used, a perfect cure was effected. My son has enjoyed good health ever since. I have no doubt, that to the ointment alone he is indebted—as nothing else was used for more than nine months before the application of the ointment. Respectfully,

Dr Wm Judkins. JOHN COKE.

DYSPEPSIA CURABLE BY GALVANIC ELECTRICITY.—DYSPEPSIA—accompanied by constipation, vertigo, painful sensations in the head and eyes, flatulence, or wind, unnatural distension of the abdomen or stomach, attended with hardness, some of the affections of the liver and spine—and in some cases difficulty in breathing, falling of the womb, diseases of the vagina and hœmmorhoids or piles—has been removed, together with these consequent or concomitant affections, solely by the aid of appropriate apparatus, recently constructed by the undersigned for the excitation of Galvanic Electricity in the system.

Instruments suitable for this purpose are so small and compact that they may be carried in the pocket; and so mild in their operation, and so simple in their construction, that children can use them as well as adults: and in many cases of disease they may be used simultaneously with other remedies.

The ratio of cure and alleviation of that form of Dyspepsia which is attended with constipation &c, has been from this remedy alone, (medicine by way of the mouth and stomach entirely discontinued,) three to four in every five cases, as far as known to the inventor of the Galvanic Apparatus.

Instruments, with directions for their proper application, and other information relative to the beneficial effects derivable from this first of curative means may be obtained of

JOSEPH M. SMITH, 138 Washington st.
Agent for DANIEL HARRINGTON, Patentee,
S. E. corner of Arch and 6th st. Philadelphia.

The following certificates of cure and relief, are a few of the whole number that have been given, and that might be obtained from sources of the first respectability.

The Galvanic Apparatus, invented by Daniel Harrington, of this city, for the cure of disease, is familiarly known to us. By its aid, under Providence, we have been enabled to exchange annoying disease for comfortable health. Dyspepsia, accompanied by constipation, that in our cases had resisted other remedies for years, soon yielded to this novel mode of cure, and in the course of a few weeks, our expectations were more than realized. Judging from our own experience, we are of opinion that this useful apparatus will be found innocent, where it may not prove more or less efficacious, and that it may be safely intrusted to any hands. With us its application has not been attended with any painful inconvenience at all nor did we find it necessary to observe, for the time being, any rigid restrictions touching diet. That there are many thousands of suffering invalids in this country, who could as readily exchange disease for health, [illegible] as we

JOHN S. RIDDLE,

Philadelphia. JOHN JEMISON.

Being myself afflicted with the inconvenience and disease incident to a confined state of the bowels, I was induced to use Mr Harrington's Galvanic Apparatus, from which I have found the most effectual relief. I therefore cheerfully recommend it to all persons laboring under similar affections.

Philadelphia. WM. T. BRANTLY.

We have been using the Galvanic Instruments, invented by Mr Daniel Harrington of this city, for a disordered condition of the digestive organs of long standing, accompanied by obstinate constipation, a confuse state of the head, and by general debility; and we have experienced that degree of relief that has enabled us to relinquish medicine by way of the mouth, finding the new remedy preferable—and we believe that by its aid we are gradually gaining health and strength, which was not the case previous to our using it. The application has involved neither pain or risk with us.

INDIGESTION, JAUNDICE AND BILIOUS COMPLAINTS. ANDERSON'S VEGETABLE ELIXIR, for Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Jaundice and Bilious Complaints weakness of the Stomach and Bowels, and consequent loss of appetite; nervous complaints, headach, sour stomach, flatulence and habitual costiveness.

This medicine is composed entirely of vegetable substances, is perfectly safe in its operation, and may be given to children or persons of the most delicate habit, without the least risk of inconvenience.

The uniform success which has attended the use of it where it has been extensively used, in Boston and various other parts of the United States, and in the West Indies, attested by disinterested and highly respectable persons, affords, next to a trial of the medicine itself, the best commentary upon its virtues, and the best recommendation which can be offered to those who are unacquainted with it.

Extract of a letter received from a gentleman in Boston, who had suffered severely from indigestion for three years. 'During this time, I suffered very much from mental depression, constant pain in the head and breast, and side, sharp shooting pains over almost the whole system—the food that I ate seemed to pass into my lungs and there remain, giving me great pain attended with a strong degree of heat. At times, I suffered so much from the pain of indigestion as to be confined to the bed for two or three days. During one of these most severe attacks, I was induced by the advice of a friend to try your Vegetable Medicine. In the course of a few weeks I found myself much better, and by the time I had taken two bottles, considered myself wholly free from the complaint. I continue, on the least feeling of any thing like indigestion or pressure on the stomach, to take about a table spoonful of it, which, in the course of a few hours, completely restores me. It has had with me a very wonderful effect, in strengthening the stomach and invigorating the whole system, and judging by my own case, I consider it in all diseases connected with the digestive organs, to be a very valuable medicine.

It has been found singularly efficacious in cases of the most obstinate headache.

It is put up in large bottles containing a pound and a half: and sold at seventy-five cents each, by Jonathan P. Hall, Jr., No. 1, Union street, John P. Whitwell, Milk street, John I. Brown, near Boylston Market, Erastus S. Holden, near the Western Avenue, Richard A. Newell, Summer street, Boston; Samuel Kidder & Co. Charlestown, E. G. Lemon, Roxbury.

POSITIVE, OR NO PAY.—Mrs. Hill's Cough Drops, or Vegetable Health Restorative.—Prepared entirely from Vegetables.

More than forty years have now elapsed since the receipt was given me by my uncle, a celebrated Physician, at a time that I was troubled with a very bad cough and cold. After taking one dose, I found immediate relief, and a few doses cured me entirely; the effects were astonishing quick, and the numerous instances of the wonderful efficacy of these drops on different people, has induced me to put them up in Phials, with directions, under the impression it would be a public benefit. And as that is my sole aim—and to convince the public that is all, and as a sure guarantee against quackery and deception, I authorise my agents to return the money to all those that do not get relief by their returning the bottle and directions. The relief and absolute cure, particularly of these numerous and complicated disorders arising from neglected colds, is amply attested by the acknowledged approbation of those who are now restored to perfect health, as well as many in the decline of life who frankly acknowledge having received great relief from the use of them in the following diseases, viz—Coughs, colds, asthma, spitting of blood, hooping cough, difficulty of breathing, influenza, quinsea, phthisic, croup, and all disorders arising from colds. Price 37½ cents per bottle.
